Fred Holokowski, the three year old son of a farmer near Retlaw, was killed by the falling of a barn door. The door had been propped up against the barn for the purpose of fitting same, when the little lad climbed the stay and the heavy door fell upon him and crushed him to death.

Germany To Offer Peace

Expected To Make Offer To Return To Status Quo

London, June 21.—Endeavors of central powers to conclude peace with Russia, on the basis of no annexations and no indemnities having proved abortive, it is expected, according to high authority, that Germany will make an immediate attempt to obtain peace before the end of July. The proposals will probably be directed toward re-establishing territorial boundaries in Europe as they existed before the war. Crises in Germany are suffering severely from drought and all indications point to terrible hardship being experienced there, which will be accentuated by the lateness of the harvest. Added to this is the fact that food shortage in Great Britain is over for the summer. Shortage of ships, regarded in the light of complete figures of losses from submarines, is causing less pessimism and it is confidently expected that the output of new tonnage will soon be such as to more than counteract the rate of loss through sinking.

School Board in Deadlock

Chairman of Trustees Votes Down Teachers' Applications For Increase in Salaries.

The trustees of Blairmore school district held a special meeting last evening to consider applications from teachers for increase of salaries. There were present, Chairman Beebe, S. Mason, J. F. Hunter and W. J. Bartlett.

Applications were read from the principal, C. R. Pearson, and Misses Fulton, Darnach, Keith and Foster, each stating their willingness to sign up for another year on condition of a $100 raise in year's salary.

A motion made by J. F. Hunter and seconded by W. J. Bartlett, that the principal's application be accepted, was declared defeated.

A second motion, to the effect that all applications be accepted, granting the $100 increase all round, was also declared defeated.

Blairmore has the reputation of paying the smallest teachers' salaries in the province of Alberta, and that in a district which should be in the best possible position of any part of the province to pay respectable stipends.

At the meeting yesterday it was pointed out that both principals and teachers in other parts of the province, although receiving salaries at the present time which are considerably larger than those paid here, are demanding increases of salaries for the coming year, and as there is a great shortage of teachers it is reasonable to expect to have to pay substantial increases. When the trustees, who are at present in party to the industrial tie-up for greater incomes, are voicing themselves as opposed to the raising of salaries of employees of one of the most important institutions.

A letter was received from Miss Marn McMunn, of Killam, accepting a position as primary teacher for the coming year.

Accepts Call To Central Union Church

Ordination and Induction Services on Thursday Next

At the evening service at Central Union church on Sunday night last, the congregation expressed themselves unanimous in a call to the Rev. James Fulton, of Edmonton, as their pastor for the coming year. Rev. Fulton has accepted the call.

The ordination and induction service will be held on Thursday evening next at 8:00, when

R. Dawson, district passenger agent for the C.P.R., with headquarters in Calgary, spent Tuesday in Frank, the guest of Mrs. Mark Drum.

The Professor's Bulletin

No. 25. "No smoking NOT spelt allowed." In this notice, the form "not" would be correct if the wording were, "Neither smoking nor spitting allowed." "Neither" and "not" are two words which, with few exceptions, must be used together. However, in such pro-syllabic notice as the above, introduced by the adjective "no," the form of the conjunction should be "or" rather than "and" for it is understood that the introductory "no" negatives both "smoking" and "spitting." Having clearly stated that idea, you will see that the use of "not" in the above notice is really equivalent to the conjunction of a "double negative."

Sapper Edgar Allen Wounded

Word was received this week by friends at Coleman, that Sapper Edgar Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Allen, formerly of Coleman but now of Drumheller, was very seriously wounded while in action in France. Sapper Allen was, before enlistment, a member of the Institutional church choir, and was a bright and highly respected lad. Another son is also at the front, serving as a bugler.

Private Fred Rapley Wounded

Mrs. Rapley received a wire from Ottawa yesterday, stating that her husband, Pte. Fred Rapley, was wounded in action on June 6th. No particulars as to the nature of his wounds are given. Pte. Rapley enlisted at Blairmore with the 192nd battalion.

Soldiers Are Learning to Farm

A "Census of Intentions" Now Being Taken at the Front

While Private Citizen Smith and Private Citizen Brown are busy in the trenches, wondering "whether the return of soldiers will be a blessing or a curse," the return of soldiers to the farm is being developed and worked as to offer a clear hope to success.

A census is now being taken among Canadian soldiers overseas, and on this it should be possible to have an estimate of the number agriculturally inclined. The card issued for the purpose by the National Service Commission includes space to be filled up with each man's name, age, unit and rank, regimental number, O. C. address, before enlistment and Province. Each soldier is then asked to answer the following questions:

"Which are you, married, single or widower?"

"Name and address of last employer before you enlisted?"

"How many dependents have you?"

"State relationship, sex and age of each."

"What were you working at?"

"Have you a trade or profession?"

"If so, what?"

"In your old position upon your return to Canada in any way?"

"Do you wish to take your discharge in Great Britain?"

"Do you propose to make your home in Canada?"

"Do you wish to take up farming as an occupation?"

"Have you ever worked on a farm?"

"If so, how long?"

"How much money do you expect to have at your disposal on your return to Canada?"

"Do you desire to take advantage of any available scheme of assisted agricultural settlement?"

"If so, what province do you prefer to settle in?"

"And would you, if necessary, to gain experience, work for prevailing wages on a farm after your return, providing your dependents were in the meanwhile given the same support as they now receive?"

Meanwhile, the men already back among us are those who have been involuntarily home. Men recovering from an illness, or those who are sent home to prevent their return to the firing line do not at all lack the taking up the strenuous life of a farmer.

Nevertheless, the vanguard of the military farming force is already on the spot. Several units of returned soldiers in Alberta enrolled themselves as students in one of the Provincial Agricultural Schools.

Vermillion. Today, the records of the Military Hospital Commission show that 75 men have had their agricultural training, besides several passed by the Disabled Soldiers' Training Board and waiting the commission's approval. Of these 75, as many as 37 are in Alberta, 22 in Saskatchewan, 14 in Manitoba and the other are in British Columbia. A considerable proportion are specializing in farm mechanics.

The Training Board, which may be explained, consists of a Vocational Officer, a Medical Officer and a third member, generally representing the Provincial Commission established to help returned soldiers in their employment.

When a man is found unable, owing to any effect of his service, to take up his former occupation, he may claim the privileges of the Government Farm Settlement Scheme. That is, he is entitled to receive free training for a new occupation, along with free maintenance for himself and his family while in training.

training halls, and for a month long.

The number of returned men who are agriculturally inclined, however, is unknown, but is probably large. For instance, the Medicine Hat Branch of the Alberta Provincial Commission sends the names of 11 returned soldiers in this district alone, who are known to have taken up agriculture. Their nominal disabilities are most varied. Two suffer from shell shock, one has defective eyesight, one is short of two fingers. Three, including a man with one hand, are at work on their respective fathers' farms, and a fourth has taken to the farm of another relative. There have been others of their own. One of these, by the way, intends taking a course of instruction in Gas Traction Engineering presently. There are men working for other farmers, and one has taken up fruit and chicken farming in British Columbia.

A similar story, doubtless, might be told of many other districts.

To provide for the increasing number of returned soldiers desiring an agricultural training, the government of Alberta has strangled to keep one of the Provincial Schools of Agriculture in operation through the year. In the ordinary course, these are closed from April 1 to November 1.

The school chosen is situated at Olds, 108 miles north of Calgary, on the Edmonton line. There, the men have been at work on the farm, with the option of taking it up on a larger scale there, and a winter, or in two winter courses separated by an interval which they can spend at home.

In Saskatchewan the commission has arranged to have a similar course, with the option of taking it up on a larger scale there, and a winter, or in two winter courses separated by an interval which they can spend at home.

In Manitoba, the Military Hospital Commission has taken over the Agricultural College at Winnipeg. There soldiers will be able to take instruction in many branches of farm work.

Poultry raising will probably be the most popular of the courses, with the co-operation of the Produce Association. A delegation from that body visited the Commission in Ottawa the other week, and pointed out that there was a considerable field for partly disabled men at the business.

For example, in egg testing and grading, and the grading and packing of poultry.

The old College at Winnipeg is equipped with green-houses for winter gardening. There is also a machine shop, 100 feet square, where men will be taught to use and repair machinery, and to do carpentry. Men thus qualified are in great demand, especially in the West, where tractor farming has been developed on the largest scale. The Winnipeg representatives have implemented houses are co-operating in the work of instructing in the use of tractors, threshing machines, gasoline engines and other modern farm appliances.

A great re-education centre for Ontario, at Guelph, just taken over by the military, has been placed in the hands of the Provincial Commission from the provincial government, is fully equipped for the most thorough agricultural training. The property covers 830 acres, and is available for this use, and a great proportion of it already under glass, a model dairy barn; up to date machinery, and live stock of all kinds complete the equipment for animal husbandry.

Meanwhile, the men already back among us are those who have been involuntarily home. Men recovering from an illness, or those who are sent home to prevent their return to the firing line do not at all lack the taking up the strenuous life of a farmer.

Nevertheless, the vanguard of the military farming force is already on the spot. Several units of returned soldiers in Alberta enrolled themselves as students in one of the Provincial Agricultural Schools.

A Soldier's Prayer

(The following beautiful verses were found on the body of a dead soldier in France. While everything indicates that they were written by a soldier—possibly by the dead man from whom they were taken—it does seem a pity that the authorship of such beautiful lines may never be established.)

We had forgotten You or very nearly,
You did not seem to touch us very nearly;
Of course we thought about You now and then,
Especially in any time of trouble,
We knew that You were good in time of trouble,
But we are very ordinary men,
And there were always other things to think of;
There's lots of things a man has got to think of—
His work, his home, his pleasure, and his wife;
And so, we only thought of You on Sunday,
Sometimes, perhaps, not even on a Sunday,
Because there's always lots to fill one's life.
And all the while, in street or lane or byway,
In country lane, in city street or byway,
You walked among us, and we did not see,
Your feet were bleeding as You walked our pavements,
How did we miss Your footprints on our pavements?
(Can there be other folk as blind as we?)
Now we remember over here in Flanders
(It isn't strange to think of You in Flanders);
This hideous warfare seems to make things clear.
We never thought about You much in England,
But now that we are far away from England
We have no doubts, we know that You are here.
You helped us pass the just along the trenches,
Where in cold blood we saw in the trenches
You touched it shabby and made it clean,
You stood beside us in our pain and weakness,
We're glad to think You understand our weakness,
Somewhere it seems to help us not to shun,
We think about You kneeling in the trenches,
Ah, God! the memory of that dread garden;
We know You prayed for us upon the cross;
If anything could make us glad to bear it,
'T would be the knowledge that You wished to bear it,
Pain—death—the uttermost of human loss.
Though we forget You, You will not forget us;
We feel so sure that You will not forget us,
That stay with us until this day and past;
And so we ask for courage, strength, and faith,
Especially, I think, we ask for pardon,
And that You'll stand beside us to the last.

Start ADVERTISING !NOW!

Stagnation of one's business is gently to be feared and gently to be avoided. Action—no effort to get ahead—keeps a business healthy, wealthy and wise.

Visible action is advertising in the local weekly paper—a fresh advertisement each week. The preparation and publication of a new advertisement is a sure indication of business energy.

"Start Something" is the slogan of today. Start advertising NOW. Keep up the advertising and your business will feel the tonic effect of your action.

Bellevue Happenings

Mrs. Harry Harrison is visiting in Calgary.

James Watson paid a visit to Michel this week.

Mrs. Harry Orr was in from South Fork this week.

R. T. Johnson spent Sunday at Lundbreck Falls fishing.

James Burrows returned to Columbia Gardens this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Woodhouse were visiting in Fernie this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McDonald moved to Lettbridge and back on Wednesday.

Ernest Williams, a former resident of Bellevue, was down from Wyndell this week.

Mrs. George Skelding, who had been visiting in Lettbridge, returned home this week.

Mrs. A. B. Bury, F. Henson and J. Cousins were visitors to Coleman during the week.

A picnic was given at Mrs. J. D. Rudd's ranch during the week, and was attended by quite a number of people.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Law said good-bye to the people of Bellevue on Monday evening and left for their new appointment at Forestburg.

A miner named Riley, who sustained two broken legs in a mine near Lundbreck, was brought up here for hospital treatment under Dr. MacKenzie this week.

Mr. Flourant, one of the men called by the French government at the outbreak of the war is home on 21 days furlough. He has been at the front over two years.

The memorial service held in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last was largely attended. About forty members of the local Oddfellows' lodge assembled at their hall and proceeded to the church, where they listened to an appropriate sermon delivered by Rev. A. J. Law. The village of Bellevue, with a population of not more than seven hundred, has contributed 117 men to the fighting forces. Of this number 34 are members of the Oddfellows' local lodge, of whom three have already paid the supreme sacrifice.

Dr. Rose and party returned the early part of the week from the upper North Fork and leave tomorrow for the Elk Valley.

Is Lord Kitchener Alive?

Lord Kitchener now a prisoner in Germany? Yes, at least, in the past, that many people of Mrs.
C. Fellows of Calgary, have drawn from a letter received by the latter from her nephew, now a prisoner in Germany. He was formerly an officer on the Hampshire, on which Lord Kitchener sailed on fatal journey to Russia.

Mrs. Fellows' nephew was supposed to have been drowned with the sinking of the Hampshire. But several months in the British navy prior to sailing with Lord Kitchener and as holding a post of importance on the official staff of the vessel at the time of departure from Russia.
He was not heard of for a year or more, and was believed to be dead.
A letter from him in his own handwriting tells that he is a prisoner in Germany.

"Let you would give $10,000 to know who is a prisoner here with me.
I would tell you if it were not for the fact that my letter would be destroyed
if I did."

These are the words written by the officer which have caused the belief among his friends in Calgary that Lord Kitchener is referred to, especially in view of the fact that the young man was an officer on the vessel in which Kitchener was supposed to have lost his life, and because himself was supposed to have been drowned and was not known to be alive or to be prisoner of the Germans until a few weeks ago.

The information was received by Mrs. Fellows, who is a resident of Elbow Park, Calgary.

The officer who wrote the mysterious message which caused the impression was formerly a resident of Vancouver, B.C.

A Belgian Children's

Fund in Holland

The committee of the "D'ave de Sante de l'enfance Belge" in Holland, moved by the alarming and ever increasing mortality among the little children in Belgium, have since August, 1916, and with the permission of the Belgian authorities organized the bringing of starved, consumptive, sickly and ailing little ones from Belgium into Holland, where they are cared for, housed, instructed, fed, medically attended and clothed for a period averaging six weeks, until they are restored to health. They are then returned to their parents in Belgium, having gained in weight some 2 to 4 lbs.
per week.

Unfortunately it is not possible to do much for funds, for more than 400 at the present moment 10,000 or more children died waiting in Belgium for their turn to go to Holland, and the number increases weekly and especially since the deportations of slavery. Only a partial alleviation of the sufferings of these poor little ones is possible, but we trust the appeal for the funds made in Canada for the carrying on of this work and perhaps tending it, will not be in vain.

From the point of humanity the little children of Belgium should come before all in obtaining sympathy and relief, and you need only picture to yourself what you would do, were your child dying of starvation, to decide whether you will send it to this work.

From the point of view of policy, remember that these children represent Belgium's future, and that this country that will have to build up the Belgium to come. How can it be done with a race of children whose most important years have been passed in conditions of starvation and sickness?

All donations to be sent to the Belgian Comité-General, Ottawa, (Can.), (see marked "Comité de la Santé de l'enfance Belge.")

That the proposals agreed on by the miners of the district with R.
F. Green, M.P., are likely to go into effect if the government takes charge of the mine is the opinion among the union officials. These considered a significant view by the men and is more than likely possible as the proposals were put forward by Mr. Green himself and following their acceptance by the miners would probably form the basis for the report presented by

The Exile

(From the Latest Post.)

I'm home, sick for the Prairie, I'm for the Plains,
I'm aching for the Coyote's midnight
call.
I'm longing for the Homestead, and its loft nor his tent
To those who sweat and to those who are my all.

I've wandered far, and I have seen
the good of nations shed;
I've trod the globe, the crimson hell
That sticks the mighty dead.
Oh, I am hungry for the Plains,
The peaceful, virgin sod.
The busy life, the helplessness
That life must lead to God,

The Kaiser's Prayer

Mine God will you be my partner,
You don't know who I am?
I am Der German Kaiser.
Der Emperor Wilhelm.
You know I whipped der Belgien,
And mit bullets I shot Kitchener full,
And I'll whip France and Italy,
And blow up Johnny Bull.

Now for all der other nations I don't give a —

If you just be mine partner,
And we'll whip der Uncle Sam.

You know I got dose submarines,
All Europe knows der well,
But der Kaiser got a patent What blows dem all to —

Mine God if you do this for me,
Then you and I will love,
And I be Emperor of der earth
And you be Emperor above

But God if you refuse me die,
Den tomorrow night at eleven,
I'll kill all my say partners,
And declare war on heaven.

But don't ask die of you,
I wouldn't it can be seen,
When Elsie push der button
I got no aneurism.

Der devil's working der time,
To keep the lights bright,
So there won't be der German left
By this time tomorrow night.

The Day.

By Henry Chappell

You boasted the Day, and you toasted
the Day.

And now the Day has come,
Blazing the trumpet and sound all,
Little you reck of the numbing ball,
The blasting shell, or the "white arm"
at all.

'As they sped your lunatic home,
You sped for the Day, you sped for the Day.

And woe the Day's red spear,
Muster, you saw God's and Heine,
Then strove His sons with the glaucous
mine;

Not all the waters of all the Rhine
Can wash thy foul hands clean.

You dreamed for the Day, you schemed
for the Day;

Watch how the Day will go,
Slay of sea and youth and prime,
Believe me slain for never a crime Thou art steeped in blood as a log in slime.

Fake friend and cowardly foe,
You have sworn for the Day, you have groined for the Day.

You're in the Harvest red,
Can you hear the groans and the awful cry?

Can you see the heap of slain that lies,
And eighteen turned to the flame-spelt skies?

The glassy eyes of the dead?
You have wronged for the Day, you have lunged for the Day.

That is the awful fate,
"Thy thing to you that kill and plain Yield ye dead of dead men and the grain;
That widows mourn their loved ones slain.

And mothers curse thy name.

Plan Ten Classes

Of Conscripts

The following official explanation of the selective conscription act has been given out by the government:
I enlisted the military service act of 1917. This is the name given the similar measure in Great Britain and New Zealand.

Mr. Robert Borden's bill commences with the repeal of the compulsory service provisions of the militia act passed in 1903.

It recites also the clauses of that act which render the militia liable to be used for service in or out of Canada for the defense thereof.

It then proceeds to explain that owing to voluntary enlistment of those who also would be producers in Canada and to the necessity of maintaining production at the highest possible level under such circumstances, the drafting of men as provided in the Militia Act is unwise and impracticable and that the men now required to be drafted by process of selection.

The bill provides for securing re-information which enables parliament further authorize a not to exceed 100,000 men.

It sets out two distinct classes from which drafts may be selected. These classes will be called out in the order indicated. They are as follows:

Class 1.—Those who have attained the age of 40 years and were born in the years 1887 to 1895, both inclusive
and are unmarried or are widowers
who have no children.

Class 2.—Those who were born in the
years 1887 to 1895, both inclusive
and are unmarried or are widowers
who have no children.

Class 3.—Those who were born in the
years 1887 to 1895, both inclusive
and are unmarried or are widowers
who have no children.

Class 4.—Those who have attained the age of 25 years and were born not earlier than the year 1894 and are unmarried or are widowers who have no child or children.

Class 5.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are married or are widowers who have child or children.

Class 6.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are married or are widowers who
have child or children.

Class 7.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are unmarried or are widowers
who have no child.

Class 8.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive and are married, or widowers who have child or children.

Class 9.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are married or are widowers who
have child or children.

Class 10.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are married or are widowers who
have child or children.

Class 11.—Those who were born in the
years 1894 to 1895, both inclusive
and are married or are widowers who

OF LOCAL AND GENERAL INTEREST

Cowley Happenings

Glen Bowerman, of Burma, was a Cowley visitor this week.

BORN, to Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gerry, at Lethbridge, a son.

The fishing season having opened on the fifthteenth, there are reports of many good catches.

Mrs. Harlan Lank and young son have returned from Calgary. Miss Lank's sister, Mrs. Lank's sister, accompanied them.

Several farmers are still hauling grain into the elevator and keeping the reward of waiting. This is one season when patience was rewarded.

The dance and fire sale given at the Old Creek school was well attended and resulted in a net sum of thirty-eight dollars being realized for the Red Cross.

Owing to the activity of our local fog, the fog was the cause of almost all the trouble of the morning. Wonder what will be next after the dogs are gone?

Mrs. Arthur Bette has returned to her home after a prolonged visit to her parents in England. Her return was delayed on account of inability to secure passage, but eventually she was allowed to go and had a good trip.

J. E. Hodgson, inspector of schools, was here last week investigating the cases for non-attendance at school of the Donkhuish children. Prompt action was taken, and it is hoped that from now on there will be no cause for complaint.

Members of the tennis club are working hard to get the court in shape, and it is expected that there will be a large class of learners attending the evening sessions. With the tennis and basketball on the school grounds, together with the new fencing and grove of newly planted trees, the grounds present quite a good appearance.

A baseball match in Cowley between the married and single men, on Saturday night, was carried off by the marrieds by a score of 10 to 5. The battery for the bachelors were Russell, Smith, P. and Grace Hodgson, C. It is hoped that this will be kept up, as there are few enough happenings of interest since the exodus of young men to the front.

Winners of Silver Medals

The winners of the silver medals given by Dr. Gray are: Grade IX—Harry Hunter, Grade XI—Jesse MacDonald.

In every case the contest was close, with only a few marks difference in the year's work.

C. R. FRASER, Principal, Blairmore Public School.

German Near Ruin

London, June 20.—Attempts of German business men to convert all kinds of holdings into currency of neutral countries, which are causing a slump in the price of neutrals, continue to be reported.

It is declared in many quarters that the German financial structure is nearing a wreck, which has been impending since the United States entered the war.

This event, it is believed, smashed all belief of neutrals that Germany had any chance to win. Even the Vorwaerts points out that the continuance of the war insures Germany's ruin.

NOTICE

To Light Consumers

The Town of Blairmore will, on and after the 1st of July, next, sell Electric Current by the Kilowatt Hour at the rate of 25c per drop will go into effect on the same date, but will be considerably increased over the present schedule.

All rates will be payable in advance, and a deposit of 25c per drop will be charged to all those using meters.

KAFURY—McFARLAN

A pretty wedding took place at Fernie on Wednesday of this week, when Miss Elizabeth Kafury, eldest daughter of F. S. Kafury, of Blairmore, was united to Mr. Alexander McFarlan, secretary of Blairmore Local Union, U.M.W. of A. The bride was given away by her father. Only a few immediate friends of the contracting parties were present. The happy young couple will return in a few days to take up residence in Blairmore. (By the way, we remember that once before Aleck came very near being captured by a bear.)

Howe—Murphy.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Catholic church, Blairmore, at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, when Miss Lucy Howe, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howe, became the wife of Timothy Murphy, of Lethbridge. The bride, who was prettily attired, was given away by her brother, Lancelot Murphy, of Lethbridge. After the ceremony the happy young couple and a number of friends were entertained at luncheon, followed by a reception, and a later entertainment afforded by the tin-can brigade, prior to their departure for Lethbridge, where they will make their home. The well wishes of their many friends in The Pass go to the two young couples in their launching upon the sea of bliss? Many beautiful wreaths (consored).
